REPORT ON WHITE PINE BLISTER RUST.

In accordance with the terms of an agreement executed between the town of Bow and the New Hampshire Forestry Commission, we are herewith submitting the report of work conducted in your town during 1923 in the control of the White Pine Blister Rust.

OBJECT OF UNDERTAKING.

This work was undertaken for the purpose of continuing the removal of currant and gooseberry bushes, which are the only means of preventing the spread of the Blister Rust disease.

There is enclosed herewith a map of the town of Bow upon which has been indicated the area covered in previous seasons and those worked in 1923. It was expected that the past season's work would complete all necessary work in Bow, but this was found to be impossible owing to the large number of currant and gooseberry bushes which abounded in the areas worked. By referring to past reports of the Department it will be noted that more bushes were found in 1923 in proportion to the area covered than in any other previous year. In fact it is believed that only through very conscientious work on the part of the crew were they able to destroy as many bushes as they did with the small appropriation which was available.

The following financial statement indicates the expenditures made in this work.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

Town appropriation,	$100.00
State aid,	25.00
Balance of 1922 state and town funds,	10.42
Total,	<hr/>	$135.42
Crew wages,	$133.22
Transportation,	2.00
Total,	<hr/>	135.22
Balance,		$0.20
		<hr/>
Total area covered,		512 acres
Cost per acre,		$0.262
Total number of currant and gooseberry bushes destroyed,		30,397

PLANS FOR 1924.

According to the advice of the Blister Rust Agent as to the necessity of further work in Bow, the Department is informed that the wild currant and gooseberry bushes in the small remaining area are so numerous that he does not believe this territory can be cleaned up on much less than $156.00. This program would require an appropriation by the town of $125.00. This increased 25 per cent from State funds, plus the small balance remaining from this year's appropriation would give a total of $156.25. The Department therefore recommends that an article be inserted in the town warrant, in the amount of $125.00 for completing control work.

Yours very truly,

N. H. FORESTRY COMMISSION,

by J. H. FOSTER,

State Forester.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the School Board and Citizens:

I herewith submit my fourth annual report of the schools of Bow.

There were maintained during the year, six schools for a school year of 36 weeks.

During the year there was one change made in the teaching force. Rilla Edwards resigned her position as teacher in the River Road school and Marion Richner was elected to take her place.

The principle upon which our nation was founded—that of equal rights and equal opportunities to all, is the principle upon which our present school law was enacted by the legislature in 1919, namely: “that every child of school age in the State should be furnished opportunities, as nearly equal as possible, to obtain a sound common school education and should be compelled to avail himself of those opportunities.” School officers, state and local, are working to accomplish this end.

Equal opportunities for the education of children in the rural schools are slow of attainment.

The children of the city and large village attend school in a comfortable, sanitary, well-heated and well-lighted building with modern toilet rooms; taught by well-trained teachers, in classes large enough to arouse enthusiasm, and are given facilities that modern progress has provided.

The children of the rural communities assemble in a one-room school house having no modern heating, ventilating and toilet facilities; taught for the most part by inexperienced and untrained teachers to whom is given the entire range of elementary subjects, to be taught to small groups of pupils, and in many schools with only one or two pupils in some of the grades.

The problem of securing well-trained teachers for the rural school is perhaps the most difficult one. Persons having completed high school and normal school courses are ambitious to obtain positions in village and city schools where they may earn larger salaries, have modern school conveniences, live in a home having modern improvements, and have opportunity for enjoying the benefits received from libraries, entertainments, fraternal organizations and church associations.

Too often the boarding place in rural communities is at such a distance from the school house as to cause inconvenience and more or less hardship for the teacher. In some localities it is difficult to find a boarding place and then the reason given for taking the teacher is that they want the school kept open. The comparative low salary the teacher receives and the corresponding small board she can pay offers no financial inducement to board her but it shows the public spirit of the one who is willing to accept the teacher as a boarder.

I am in favor of a one-room school, it may be owing to my early training in one, but I am in favor of a one-room school taught by a well-trained, well-paid, contented teacher, in a comfortable, modern school house with a pupil enrollment large enough to arouse enthusiasm in both teacher and pupil, in a community willing to co-operate with the teacher in having a good school.

There are 722 one-room rural schools in New Hampshire, and to keep these schools open it appears that these communities ought to furnish from their midst teachers for these schools and a comfortable home for the teacher located near the school house.

TEACHERS' MEETINGS

The teachers' meetings held during the year have been well attended by the teachers, who have shown interest in this line of educational work. At one meeting there were thirty-one present, when the keeping of the register was explained and the school law discussed. At another meeting thirty-two teachers and six members of the school board were present. At this meeting Dr. E. W. Butterfield discussed the educational changes in the state in the last seven years and Miss Bernice Batchelder of Massachusetts spoke on the subject of Reading. The talks of both speakers were exceedingly interesting and instructive.

The teachers and school boards of this Union have formed a Teachers' Association and have already held one meeting and have voted to have at least four meetings a year. The next meeting is to be held February 9th at Hooksett No. 4 School. The public is cordially invited to attend these meetings.

I wish to emphasize the benefits derived from teachers' meetings. They are the best known means of giving efficiency and harmony to a system of instruction and for securing unity of method. They offer an incentive for broader and more thorough study of school interests and duties. I would recommend to the school board that they grant time for these meetings, considering the teacher's attendance upon these meetings part of her school duty.

ATTENDANCE.

The attendance at some of the schools has not been commendable. Several boys and girls who have graduated between the ages of 14 and 16 have been denied the privilege of working in manufacturing establishments because they did not attend school three hundred half-days as required by law. The law covering these cases reads as follows:

"Such (school) record shall certify that the child has regularly attended the public schools, or private schools lawfully approved as such, for not less than three hundred half-days as shown by the school register, during the year previous to the arriving at the age of fourteen, or during the year previous to applying for such school record, and whether he is able to read understandingly and write legibly, simple sentences in the English language."

If parents would visit the school which their children attend they would get an accurate knowledge of the affairs in the school room, the standing of their children in their classes, and of the problems which confront the teacher. These visits would display an interest on the part of the parent in the work-a-day doings of the school and a willingness to co-operate with the teacher. These visits also ought to decrease tardiness, absence and truancy.

Most of the teachers have been faithful and have done commendable work.

In conclusion I express my appreciation for your hearty co-operation and assistance.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY S. ROBERTS.
